

Merger Review

Eimer Stahl attorneys have successfully handled the antitrust clearance of large and complex mergers and acquisitions. The firm has substantial experience guiding clients through the successful review of their most important business transactions, from antitrust planning at the outset of a proposed transaction, to the Hart-Scott-Rodino premerger notification process, to responding to second requests from the Federal Trade Commission or the Department of Justice. We also help clients respond to investigative demands by state attorneys general. We use our extensive experience to identify transactions that have the potential to attract antitrust scrutiny and help our clients to best manage the merger review process. Eimer Stahl lawyers have a long history of working with the relevant antitrust agencies and are fully prepared to litigate a government challenge should it be necessary.
